MONUMENT TO BE ERECTED.

Editors of Sullivan, Indiana Unen:-

I have received a clipping from your paper of January 1st, 1913, tucky the mother of ovarian surrelative to the grave of Mrs. Jane Crawford, whose remains rest in his own way to immortality as the Johnson cemetery near Graysville, in your county. Some of the statements require slight correction. I am not a descendant of Mrs. Jane Crawford, but alone." a grandson of Rachel Crawford, a sister of Thomas Crawford, husband of Mrs. Jane Crawford. Thomas Crawford and Thomas Mitchell, who married his sister Rachel, emigrated from Rockbridge county Va., in 1805 and settled in Green county Ky., on but it seems that only recently adjoining farms. While residing has anyone taken the pains to there the famous operation was look up ber history. performed on the wife of Thomas Crawford by Dr. Ephriam McDowell, now known as the Eather of Ovariotomy. Thomas Grawford remained in Kentucky till about the year 1817 when he removed to Jefferson county, Indiana, and settled on a farm near Madison. There is a tradition among his descendants that he left Kentucky on account of his opposition to slavery. A monument was erected to Dr. Ephriam McDowell at Danville, Ky., in 1879, but no steps have been taken as yet to my knowledge towards erecting a monument to his first patient, Mrs. Grawford. The suggestion for such a monument was made in the address by Dr. Samuel D. Gross at the dedication of the Mc-Dowell monument. After his eulogy upon Dr. McDowell, Dr. Gross spoke of Mrs. Crawford as follows:

"All honor, too, to the heroic woman who, with death literally staring her in the face, was the first to submit calmly and resignedly to what certainly was at the time a surgical ezperiment. To her, too, let a monument be erected, not by the citizens of Kentucky, but by the suffering women who, with her example before them, have been the recipients of the inestimable boon of ovariotomy, with a new lease of their lives and with immunity from subsequent discomfort and distress. I know of no greater example in all history of heroism than that displayed by this noble woman in submitting to an untried operation."

Mr. James Lane, author of a "Kentucky Cardinal," "The Choir Invisible," and other books refers to the event in his volume entitled "The Doctor's Christmas Eve," on page 100 in which he history orations and literature,

In October, 1912, I received a letter from Miss Amelia Crawford, of Covington, Ky., a granddaughter of this heroine requasting me to answer a number of questions submitted to her by Dr. August Schachner, of Louisville Ky., regarding Mrs. Jane Crawford, I understand to Dr. Schahner primarily belongs the credit of starting this investigation. I have known Miss Amelia Crawford, for several years when she lived in Louisville, Ky. I also knew her father, Hon. Thos. Howell Crawford, one time Mayor of Louisville. He and my father were first cousins; beyond this I knew very little of the Crawford family until I undertook to answer the questions of Dr. Schachner, nor did I know that Mrs. Jane Crawford had more than one son, in fact I did not know her Christian name until I had the records examined in Green Co., Ky., and found that Thomas Crawford and Jane his wife. conveyed a tract of land there in December, 1810 to one John Motly, this was about a year after the opperation which took place in December, 1809, according to one authority; another writer says it occurred in June, 1809; all agree that it was some time in the year 1809.

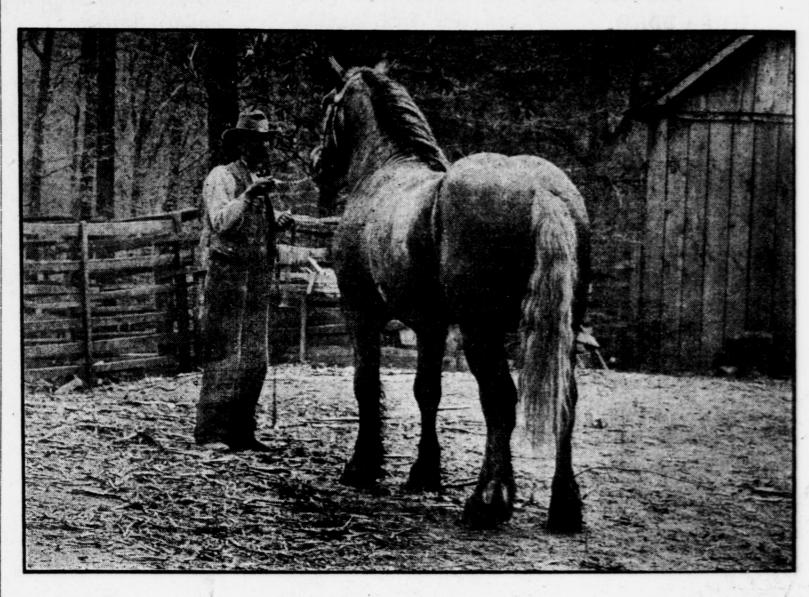

Mrs. Crawford's maiden name was Todd. There is a belief among her descendants that she was a first cousin of Gen. Levi Todd, the grandfather of Miss Mary Todd, who became the wife of Abraham Lincoln. I am not able to verify this from any record to which I have had access, perhaps some one familiar with the Todd genealogy may know the fact. I have learned from the descendants of Mrs. Crawford that she had four children who reached mature years. Three sons, James, Samuel and

Thomas Howell Crawford now known to be living, except Miss Amelia Crawford, daughter of Thomas H. Crawford, and it is possible that there are some living descendants of Samuel living in the West, but if so their places of residence is unknown to their relatives. Samuel Crawford died probably at Logansport, Indiana, about 1843 and Thomas H. Crawford was fatally burned and died at Pewee Valley. Ky., in June, 1871; Mrs. Alice Brown is believed to have over 70 living descendants, living chiefly in Iowa and Kansas. Her son, James Crawford Brown, still lives at Morning Sun, Iowa, at the age of 87 years. He has Collins' history of Kentucky a maiden sister in the same place of an advanced age. After learning that Rev. James Crawford was a Presbyterian minis-Mrs. Jane Crawford has thus ter, I traced his history in the received honorable mention in minutes of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church. I received through Mr. J. C. Brown, of Morning Sun, Iowa, the information that Mrs. Jane Crawford died at the home of her son, Rev. James Crawford, near Graysville, Indiana, and that her remains were probably buried in a cemetery near that place. On December 6, 1912, I wrote Rev. John McArthur, Presbyterian minister at Sulli van, Indiana, asking his aid in locating the grave. I received a prompt answer to which I replied on December 13. On December 16, I received another borhood. letter from Rev. McArthur containing the definite information that Mrs. Crawford's grave was in the Johnson cemetery, and giving the inscription on her tombstone containing date of her death as March 30, 1842, aged 75 Dr. Mr. McArthur for his assistance as well as to any others who may have aided in locating the grave. I have had a letter from Dr. Maple, secretary of the Sullivan County Medical Society and from another physician at Graysville, whose name I do not recall. A photograph of the grave appears in the Journal of the American Medical Association for January 4, 1913, and a statement of Dr. W. N. Thompson. I understand the photograph was furnished by Dr. J. R. Hinkle. In the issue of this Journal for January 18, 1913, appears another stttement from Dr. Thompson regarding the grave. We shall be glad to gather as many facts as possible concerning Mrs. Crawford, and hope some day that a sketch may be prepared containing a fuller history than has yet appeared. Any one in the vicinity of Sullivan who can give any information regarding her life or who knows any thing of the date and place of death of Alexander Crawford, son of Rev. James Crawford or anything of the descendants of Samuel Crawford, another son of Mrs. Jane Todd Crawford, I shall be pleased to hear from them. I am in no way connected with the National Medical Association and do not have charge of any arrangements to erect a monument. This part of the statement in your paper is premature. should be glad indeed to see some association take hold of the matter, and would do anything in my power to aid in the work. Mr. Work's Positton

Senator Works, of California, vigorously scores the newspapers in a speech delivered in the Senate in support of his resolution prohibiting the District of Columbia papers from printing accounts of accidents, tragedies and crimes. Mr. Works' argued that such publications had poisonous and deleterious effect upon the minds of the public and a part of your 1913 income? therefore, ought to be stopped. Mr. Works' conclusion is unquestionably right, but, as we think his premise equally certain to be wrong. Quite reversing the Senator's views, we do not believe there is a single agency which, if properly employed, can do more toward putting down crime than a newspaper. Persons there are, and a plents, too, who shun the white light of publicity more than conviction itself. The possibility of being disgraced by such publications, we have no doubt, has had a deterent effect upon more than one would-be criminal.

If the Senator had had a little experience in newspaper office, and had the opportunity to know how many hundred calls we have to keep stories of crime and arrest out of the paper he would better know how the offenders dread this sort of publicity.-E-Town News.

What is Income?

(Philadelphia Leader.)

What is income? If you bought a house 10 years ago for $5,000 and sold it yesterday for $10,000, would the $15,000 profit count as income for 1913?

If you bought 1,000 shares of stock at $100 a share last September and sold yesterday at $110, would the $10,000 profit be

No, in both instances. They should properly be classed as additions to capital, and capital is not in any sense income. man might have a million dollars in a bank vault and still be not subject to an income tax, because his million wouldn't be earning a dollar.

Income implies time, capital Bonie, by old Nat Brown 81. does not. Income is something the added value to the house was not in any sense earned. Nor was the increase in the price of the 1,000 shares of stock earned. lent breeder:

If it were attempted to measure by an income yard stick the fluctuation in capital, no one would ever be able to tell exactly what his income was. Until you sell your house you do not know how much value has been added, and the same is true of your stocks and bonds. You may guess, but there is no certainty.

Income is a definine and stated return upon labor and upon capital. The rent derived from a house is income. The added value to the house is capital. A man's salary is income, but his capacity to earn more salary is capital.

If you were to find a thousand not figure as a part of your income for I913. If you at once invested it so as to get 5 per cent interest, the $50 it would bring you would be part of your income for the year. If your father gave you a house, that wouldn't figure in your income account, but as soon as the house began to yield rent for you that would be income. The gift of the house would be an addition to your capital.

The Courts make a clear distinction in the matter of income and capital. The trustee of an estate might invest $100,000 in securities and in a year be able to sell them for $110,000. If the trusteeship stipulated that he should distribute only income to the beneficaries the Court would not permit him to give them the $10,000 profit derived from the sale of the securities. That would be capital and not income The $10,000 would have to be invest-

Postponed a Year.

A startling development in the Kentucky Senatorial contest camlast week when Charlton Thompson, of Covington, who was one of the men who drafted the Kentucky State primary law, now on the statute books, gave out the information that the ratification of the amendment to the Federal constitution providing for the popular election of Senators will prolong the battle among Kentucky Democrats over the Senatorship for one year.

In other words, the Kentucky August primary of this year is a nullity so far as nominating candidates for Senator is concerned and the candidates for that office will not be chosen until a primary can be held next year.

This postpones for one year a decision as to whether Beckham or Stanley, or some one else, shall be the Democratic choice.

Mr. Thompson says the Kentucky statute provides for annual primaries and for the nomination of Senatorial candidates at primaries next preceeding the election. As a successor to Senator Bradley can not be elected until November, 1914 and as there is to be another primary in 1914 it is Mr. Thompson's oponion that the Kentucky law can not be construed in any other way than to make it absolutely necessary to postpone the nomination of Senatorial candidates until next year.

Much of the soft effect is secured by the graceful undulation of the brim, and again it is brought out by a fabric-draped crown and dainty flower trimmings. Quite the correct new model shows the gracefully shaped brim smoothly covered with material and a crown that is decidely tamo'-shanter in style. MAY

The next Legislature will, of necessity, face some of the most important propositions in the history of this State, the solution of which will be felt for many years to come. If it be a competent, discrete body it will handle the situation in a most beneficial manner. If it lightly considers the true condition or blunders in giving wholesome legislation the evil effects can not be overcome in a quarter of a century. Already we have called attention to many serious de fects in the primary election law so serious as to strike at independent voting -- the only available avenue to cure corrupt government. This law must be overhauled and made to conform to public good rather than party advancement. While this may be regarded lightly by many, yet when its effects are fully realized its seriousness will not be under-Untrammeled, in telligent suffrage must correct the evils that come through parties and the liberation of the voters is indispensable to such a cause. The primary law is not the only nor the most important measure to be considered. Kentucky has a large unauthorized debt-a deficit that is increasing all the while. Sooner or later the tax payers must pay It and the next Legislature should revise the revenue laws not merely to pay this debt but to meet the legitimate expenses of the state under ordinary conditions for the next quarter of a century. Our penal, charitable and educational institutions must be maintained in a manner that will best serve the purposes for which they were established, but conservative business methods should direct their course. Many other measures of vital importance to public prosperity will come before our next general assembly, so the necessity of selecting able and discrete representatives from every district in the State ought to be impressed on the people. In this, the 37th Legislative district, Adair and Cumberland, we trust that the right man will be found and that he will go to give valuable service, to serve rather than be served. Without reflect. ing upon any one who has represented this district, or who may desire to do so in the coming session of the General Assembly, we hope a business man of unquestionable ability, progressive, active and with courage to fight, both on and off of the floor of the House, for such measures as are necessary for the well being of this district and the State at large will come to the front at an early date and offer his services. As we see it the Democratic party is in position to offer such a man, in far better position than its Republican opponents. Not because it possesses a monopoly on ability and fitness, but due to the fact that it has no contention within its ranks for the position named. Under such condition we urge the Democrats of the two counties to get together and present the right man to be selected.

Rumor says that the Inspector and Examiner, under the resolution; adopted by the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund in December, has investigated all departments of the State government, and that he will be able to present to the next Legislature a complete and exhaustive report so that the members. if they will work, can determine the needs of the State. Graft can and should be cut out. Unauthorized expenditure of the people's money should and must be stopped. Extravagance and waste will be tolerated no longer. To the voters of the 37th Legislative District we say get together and elect a man, to represent us in the next session of the General Assembly.

By looking over our announcement columns it will be seen that Mr. W. H. Wilson is a candidate for jailer of Adair county, subject to the action of the Democratic voters at the August primary. Mr. Wilson has been a staunch party man all his life, and has given valuable service to the party at every election. Eight years ago he was the Democratic nominee for the same position. At that time the Republican party was united, and he was defeated by a small majority. He will enter actively into the campaign and will push his claims until the primary closes. If he should be nominated he will be thankful, and will have not one word of complaint against Democrats who support other candidates. It will be his purpose to win at the November election, and to do that he believes he would have to pitch his canvass upon a high plane and work diligently until the fall contest is over. Thanking those who have tendered him their support, he now starts n the canvass.

In to-day's issue of The News Mr. R. S. English is announced as a candidate for Jailer of Adair county, subject to the action of the Democratic party, Mr. English is a farmer who resides in the Milltown precinct and is popular with his neighbors, all of whom are interested in his ambition. He was born and reared in Cumberland county, but has been a resident of Adair county for great many years. He commenced voting the Democratic ticket as soon as he reached his majority, working for the success of the ticket in every election. He is a little late, that is later than many other candidates in making his announcement, but he expects to canvass the county and personally present his claims. He asks his friends not to commit themselves, as he had received many encouraging reports as to his prospects from various sections of the county, and that he is in the fight to win the nomination. He would be truly thankful if his friends would personally interest themselves in his behalf, promising them that should he be elected he would a faithful officer.

Hays, in the prime of his life, was a successful practitioner, wellknown in ten or twelve counties. His uncle, J. B. Stone, of Monticello, Geo. E. Stone, of Danville, and Boyle Stone, who is in the west, are lawyers of undisputed ability. The subject of this writing has been successfully practicing his profession for a number of years, he is very much interested in the affairs of Russell county, and believes that he can better serve his people by looking after the fiscal end of said county. The Perfect Laxative For Elderly People

Age has its attractions no less than youth in a more serene and quieter life. But it is this very life of rest without sufficient exercise that brings with it those disorders that arise from inactivity. Chief of these are a chronic, persistent constipation.

Most elderly people are troubled in this way, with accompanying symptoms of belching, drowsiness after eating, headaches and general lassitude. Frequently there is difficulty of digesting even light food. Much mental trouble ensues, as it is hard to find a suitable given that elderly people should not use salts, cathartic pills or powders, waters or any of the more violent purgatives. What they need, women as well as men, is a mild laxative tonic, one that is pleasant to take and yet acts without griping.

The remedy that fills all these re-griping.

The remedy that fills all these requirements, and has in addition tonic on a postal card will do.

In Kind Rememberance.

The Death Angel has again invaded the home of F. M. Stotts and taken from them his kind and beloved wife, Mattie. Deceased was 28 years of age, and a victim of consumption. She bore her suffering with great patience and was so kind and thankful to her many friends and relatives who so tenderly and willingly waited on her. She professed a hope in Christ eleven years ago, and united with the Methodist Church in which she has 'been a consistent member ever since.

On several occasions she was heard to express her willingness to go in the presence of her husband and mother as she called her. Mattie's maiden name was Akin. Her mother died leaving her at the age of 5 years. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Curry then gave her a good home until she was married.

We could see that Mattie regretted to leave her sweet little girls, aged 5 and 9 years, but we hope there will be some good way provided for them.

But oh it gives us such pain to see and know that our friends and loved ones are passing off the stage of action, but we too must soon pass out of this old tabernacle and the Apostle Paul said, as he was inspired of God to speak' "If this Tabernacle of our house were desolved we have

Why He Made Good.

The new minister in a Georgia church was delivering his first sermon. The darkey janitor was a listener from a back corner of the church. The minister's sermon was eloquent, and his prayers seemed to cover the whole category of human wants.

After the service one of the deacons asked the old darkey what he thought of the new minister. "Don't you think he offers up a good prayer, Joe?"

"Ah mos' suhtainly does, boss Why, dat man axed de Lord fo' things dat de odder preachers didn't'even know he had!"

Lime on Land.

A farmer once wrote to Horace Greeley's paper and asked him if lime was good on potatoes. The great editor answered that he did not know, but that he knew that butter was.

Lime is good on potatoes and it is good on most any kind of land to raise any kind of crop. The farmers of Hardin county are beginning to realize this fact more and more each year. They are having occular demonstrations of the very poorest farm in the country being converted into the most productive by the free use of ground limestone. How to Cultivate Corn.

Corn is a plant which requires much water for it's growth. Hence, to produce the best crop possible it is necessary to keep down all weeds and to prevent the evaporation of moisture from the surface of the soil. These two things may be accomplished by good methods of cultivation. When the soil is not too wet, it is a good practice to run a spike tooth smoothing harrow, or some form of weeder, over the corn field three or four days after planting. This will destroy most ted anywhere. of the early weeds, besides breaking any crust which may have formed over the germinating seeds. This work would often endanger the young "plants if done later than five days after Praise of the militant suffra-planting. The first regular culeven during wet times the cultivation should be in no case deep enough to break the roots of the corn plants. During the first part of the growing season the cultivation of the corn crop should be so thorough that it will not be necessary to continue cultivation longer than the time when this work begins to break down the

Japan's Bluff.

The Legislature of California has a bill before it which has aroused an intense feeling in Japan. The bill is one which prohibits Japanese, who are not citizens of the United States, from owning property in California. The government a Washington, in order to maintain friendly relations with Japan, and because it also recognizes the unfairness of the proposed measure, is seeking to have the the bill modified so that it will apply to all aliens alike. President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan are using alike their utmost endeavors in this direction and are being helped by Gov. Johnson. We trust that they will be successful, but if not the United States is not to be bluffed by Japan. These Eastern Yankees are puffed up over the successful war against Russia and strut around a little too much Columbus Allsop is on a trade with a chip on their shoulders. As a nation Japan is practically bankrupt and has no money or Raz Barlow has written to the credit to wage war against the United States and their big bluff wont scare anybody.

wants to take it the nevt time he Japan and we are not going to be drawn into war without the most serious provication, but if the wost comes and Uncle Sam has to put on his war paint the Japanese will get the worst licking they ever received.

Interest to Stock Raisers.

The great work being done by the State Veterian, backed by the State and national authorities, in controlling and checking infectious diseases of animals is gaining prominence and encouragement from the stock owners. They are demanding assistance in wiping out diseases, and are ever ready to take all precautions necessary to avoid the introduction of disease into their herds. The stock owner is realizing that infectious diseases may be diagnosed, restrained, prevented and even eradicated by the intelligent use of reliable biological laboratory products, such as vaccines, bacterins, toxins and antitoxins, and his understanding of these products, togeteer with their proper application, has convinced him. Where is the stock man who would question the reliability of black legvaccine to save his herd from black leg? This vaccine is used more than all others combined, and saves many young herds from complete destruction in black leg season.

Cute for Stomach Disorders.

Disorders of the stomach may be avoided by the use of Chamberlain's Tablets. Many very remarkable cures have been effected by these tablets.
